White Construction Group Awarded Douglas County Southeast Road & Bridge Facility

CASTLE ROCK, Colo., Oct. 31, 2006 – White Construction Group, a Colorado-based construction firm specializing in commercial construction, design-build, historic restorations and tenant improvement projects, announces the award of the Douglas County Southeast Road & Bridge Facility project.

This project, located in rural Douglas County, Colo., involves the construction of a 6,000-square-foot salt and sand storage facility. This is the fourth recent project awarded to White Construction Group by Douglas County Public Works. “We look forward to working on another successful project with Douglas County Public Works and DLH Architecture. It is always a pleasure to work with Vicky Starkey and her staff at Douglas County,” said Doug Decker, Vice President of White Construction Group.

The other recent construction projects are Douglas County Evidence Technology, Douglas County Heated Storage, and Douglas County Human Services.

The project managers are Doug Decker and Kriss Mavis, and the project superintendent is Mark Davis. Expected completion date is February 2007.

Project partners include:

- Owner: Douglas County Public Works, Castle Rock, Colo.
- Architect: DLH Architecture, Castle Rock, Colo.
