White Construction Group Awarded Restoration and Renovation at North High School

CASTLE ROCK, Colo., May 17, 2006 – White Construction Group, a Colorado-based construction firm specializing in commercial construction, design-build, historic restorations and tenant improvement projects, has begun work at Denver's historic North High School.

The project includes exterior restoration of both the original 1911 building and the 1913 Annex addition. Restoration activities will include a combination of window rehabilitation and replacement, masonry restoration, metal cornice and roof repairs. In addition, a remodel of the 1983 cafeteria addition is also slated. The project is valued at $4.5 million. The project manager is Karen Poole and the superintendent is Mike Garecht.

Project partners include:

- Owner: Denver Public Schools
- Architect: Humphries Poli Architecture, Denver, Colo. for the exterior.
- Klipp Architecture Planning Interiors, Denver, Colo. is the architect for the cafeteria.
