White Construction Group Awarded City of Black Hawk Contracts

CASTLE ROCK, Colo., June 1, 2005 – White Construction Group, a Colorado-based construction firm specializing in commercial construction, design-build, historic restoration and tenant improvement projects, has been awarded two contracts with the City of Black Hawk. Courtney White, who joined White Construction Group in 2002, will serve as project manager. White currently is project manager on the construction of a new office building at 18 South Wilcox Street in Castle Rock, Colo., the historical rehabilitation and repairs to the Edgewater Heritage Center, and the construction of a new learning landscape and utility work at Collegeview Elementary School in Denver, Colo. She also is responsible for overseeing one of the largest petroleum remediation projects in Colorado, which is located in Keenesburg, Colo.

The contracts with the City of Black Hawk involve the construction of a 3,822-square-foot, single-story United States Post Office building and a 4,908-square-foot, two-story commercial building.

Both buildings are wood-framed construction and feature high-end, natural stone veneer. Construction work also will include tenant improvements to house a credit union, site and utility work for both buildings, and Colorado State Highway 119 improvements, including curb and gutter work, asphalt paving, sidewalks, and extension of the storm sewer. The combined value of the projects is $2.8 million, and groundbreaking is scheduled in June 2005. The project will be completed in December 2005.

Project partners include:

- Client: City of Black Hawk, Black Hawk, Colo.
- Architect: PEH Architects, Boulder, Colo.
