White Construction Group Completes Three Projects

CASTLE ROCK, Colo., Aug. 11, 2004 – White Construction Group, a Colorado-based construction firm specializing in commercial construction, design-build and historic restoration projects, has announced the completion of three projects; a tenant finish at 399 Perry Street in Castle Rock, refurbishes at Barnum and College View Elementary Schools in Denver, and a historic remodel to the old Morgan County Jail in Fort Morgan.

White Construction Group originally built the building at 399 Perry Street in Castle Rock and accepted the opportunity to come back and construct a tenant finish for Castle Centerstone.

Project partners include:

- Client: Castle Centerstone
- Architect: River Studios Architecture

The school year is approaching and two elementary schools in Denver will be ready to host their students in newly refurbished settings. Construction at Barnum and College View Elementary Schools in Denver included roof replacement, new paint and carpeting as well as masonry work and was completed at the end of July.

Project Partners include:

- Client: Denver Public Schools
- Architect: Oscar Parra Architecture

The County Commissioners of Morgan County will enjoy their newly renovated offices in the old Morgan County Jail. This historic restoration has interesting details such as the original jail cell bars enclosing some of the offices.
